I was recently invited to see self-contained mobile clinics mounted on a trailer that a group of Danish companies operating in Western Ukraine has developed on their own initiative to support the delivery of medical services in remote community and in areas close to the frontline. More details can be found at their webpage <https://mobile-clinic.com.ua/#about>

It is a good example of how Danish owned companies operating in Ukraine do their utmost to support Ukraine's resilience at a difficult time.

I wish to express my appreciation of this kind of private initiatives and would encourage anyone interested to reach out to Mr. Jakob Dalhoff at jd@mobile-clinic.com.ua or Lars Vestbjerg at lv@mobile-clinic.com.ua for further information and about the possibility to support the project.

Sincerely,

Ole Egberg Mikkelsen
Ambassador of Denmark to Ukraine
